

Research Grant
Ref: BeFRAIL_3_3024

The Center for Research in Anthropology (CRIA), opens a call for the award of one (1) Research Grant within the scope of the project Porto in Times of Cholera and War: A bioarchaeological approach to human fragility (BeFRAIL), funded by national funds through FCT/MCTES (PIDDAC), with the reference 2022.02398.PTDC: <https://doi.org/10.54499/2022.02398.PTDC>.

The BeFRAIL project, with Francisca Alves Cardoso (CRIA, NOVA-FCSH) as Principal Investigator and Nicholas Marquez-Grant (Cranfield University) as Co-Principal Investigator, focuses on the study of health and disease inferred through the study of an archaeological context and associated collection. The context refers to the hospital cemetery of the Ordem 3ª de Nossa Senhora do Carmo, in Porto (Portugal), whose occupation covers the years 1801 to 1869: years of cholera and war in Portugal. The BeFRAIL project has as its core the archaeological and bioanthropological analysis of the context and associated collections using a multi-methodological and multidisciplinary approach (e.g., archaeology, bioanthropology, history, demography, archaeoethanatology and archaeosciences).
